3. C/SS/DCI 7C-17 HQS	27 Oct 81	9/8/81		This looks like an excellent program. I suggest the panels considering candidates for upcoming assignments to the DCI/SS crank this into the training programs designed to prepare these officers for the assignments. Current requirements, staffing and mandatory training for new officers already on the staff as well as those who will be arriving shortly, would make it almost impossible to accommodate another course while still affording the increased protection being encouraged by the DDA and supported by D/S and DCI/SO.

Same Subject

25X1 1. Per referenced pink sheet (form 610), I have been in contact with [redacted] C/OPS/PSI, to explore the possibility of the FBI allowing certain members of this organization to attend the Hostage Negotiating Seminar.

2. I have been informed that the FBI welcomes one CIA representative per class. Next course runnings are scheduled for 10 January to 22 January 1982, 31 January to 12 February 1982 and 14 March to 26 March 1982. The seminar is a two-week course, given at the FBI Academy, Quantico, Virginia. The FBI defrays the cost of food and lodging. The student has the option to commute daily to the seminar if he or she chooses not to remain "on campus".

3. I have been advised that the class fills up fast. Candidates should be in the GS-12/13 range and not in the decision chain of command. [redacted] is the liaison focal point with the FBI, hence all candidates for this seminar should be identified to him. Naturally, SEG would appreciate being informed concurrently so we may ensure proper documentation of training records.

Hostage Negotiating Seminar

25X1

1. As you know, I recently participated in a Hostage Negotiating Seminar given by the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Quantico, Virginia. The course spanned two weeks and my overall impression was very favorable. [redacted]

25X1

2. The course consisted of a basic psychology, negotiating techniques, role playing, and the experience of various professional hostage negotiations were presented. These elements were integrated into an overall strategy of negotiations designed to optimize the opportunity for safe recovery of hostages. While the course was designed primarily for law enforcement personnel it was not limited to that population and may indeed be utilized by anyone. [redacted]

25X1

3. While there were many positive aspects and some negative concerns it would seem pointless to comment here on each. My feeling is that the course would be advantageous to DCI/SS as it is they who might possibly some day face a hostage situation. [redacted]

25X1

4. We might consider a hostage survival briefing as a part of our Counter Terrorist Training Course. Here we might incorporate some negotiating methods into an overall strategy of survival for any of our staff who might find themselves in the unfortunate category of hostage. My estimate is that our people are more likely to be found as a hostage rather than a hostage negotiator. In either event a briefing of this sort might prove helpful. State Department currently conducts such briefings and it might be advisable to touch base with them. [redacted]

25X1

5. The field of hostage negotiation has developed from embryo to full in the last 10 years; the idea of hostage survival might evolve similarly in the next 10 years. [redacted]
